You have the right to make a complaint at any time to us, the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK regulator for data protection issues (in line with our complaints procedure, a copy of which can be obtained by emailing contactus@quovento.com)

Changes to the privacy notice and your duty to inform us of changes

We keep our privacy notice under regular review.

This version was last updated in May 2026. It may change and, if it does, those changes will be posted on this page and notified to you by push notification. The new notice may be displayed on-screen and you may be required to read and acknowledge the changes to continue your use of the App or the Services.

It is important that the personal data we hold about you is accurate and current. Please keep us informed if your personal data changes during our relationship with you. Please visit to the My Account section of your Account to update your details.

Third party links and sites

Our App and Services may, from time to time, contain links to and from the websites of third parties. Please note that these websites (and any services accessible through them) are controlled by those third parties and are not covered by this privacy notice. You should review their own privacy notices to understand how they use your personal data before you submit any personal data to these websites or use these services.

The data we collect about you

We collect, use, store and transfer different kinds of personal data about you. To make it easier for you to use this privacy notice, we group these into the following categories. Each of these categories is described in more detail

- [Identity Data.]
- [Contact Data.]
- [Profile Data.]
- [Transaction Data.]
- [Device Data.]
- [Content Data.]
- [Usage Data.]

- [Security Data.]
- [Cookies Data.]
- [Marketing and Communications Data.]
- [Location Data.]
- [Connected Data.]
- [Social Media Data.]
- [Feedback Data.]

- [Competition Data.]

We do not intentionally collect any special categories of personal data about you (this includes details about your race or ethnicity, religious or philosophical beliefs, sex life, sexual orientation, political opinions, trade union membership, information about your health, and genetic and biometric data).

We will collect data relating to criminal offences through the measures we take to secure and protect our App and users.

How is your personal data collected?

We collect your personal data in the following way:

- Registration. We collect your Identity Data and Contact Data when you register your account with us.
- Communications. When you communicate with us via email, or AI chat we collect your Contact Data. If you contact us through the AI App using the chat function, we also collect Device and Cookies Data to operate the chat function and respond to your messages. If the communication relates to an error or problem you are having with the App or one of our Services, we will also collect Usage Data for diagnosis and improvement.
- Information you generate when using our App and Services. Each time you access and use our App and Services we collect Content, Device, Cookies, Personalisation and Usage Data. We collect Content Data where you upload it to the App or interact with the content available on the App. We collect Device, Cookies, Personalisation and Usage Data by download and using cookies and other similar technologies.
- Information we collect through monitoring the use of our App, Sites and Services. Each time you access and use our App and Services we collect information about that access and use, being Device, Content, Cookies, and Usage Data.
- Additional information we otherwise collect through our App, Sites and Services where we have your consent to do so. Where you provide your consent, we collect your Location Data on an ongoing basis while you have the App installed on your device.

- Connected Data. We collect Connected Data when you choose to connect your connected device to your account.
- [Information we receive from third parties [and publicly available sources]. We will receive personal data about you from the third parties [and public sources] set out below:
  - Apple store
  - Google play
  - Unique application numbers. When you want to install or uninstall a Service containing a unique application number or when such a Service searches for automatic updates, that number and information about your installation, for example, the type of operating system, may be sent to us.

- Cookies

We use cookies (small files placed on your device) and other tracking technologies on the App to improve your experience and our development of the App and our Services. For detailed information on the cookies we use, the purposes for which we use them and how you can exercise your choices regarding our use of your cookies.

How we use your personal data

We will only use your personal data when we have a lawful basis to do so. Our lawful basis for each purpose for which we use your personal data is specified below. Most commonly we will use your personal data in the following circumstances:

- Consent. Where you have freely consented before the processing in a specific, informed and unambiguous indication of what you want. You can withdraw your consent by deleting your account.
- Legitimate interests. Where it is necessary for our legitimate interests (or those of a third party) and your interests and fundamental rights do not override those interests. We make sure we consider and balance any potential impact on you (both positive and negative) and your rights before we process your personal data for our legitimate interests. You can obtain further information about how we assess our legitimate interests against any potential impact on you in respect of specific activities by contacting us.
- Recognised legitimate interests. We may sometimes use your personal data because we (or a third party) have a recognised legitimate interest (RLI). These are different to legitimate interests. RLIs apply where there are public interest reasons for processing (such as preventing or detecting crime, safeguarding individuals, responding to emergencies, supporting national or public security or defence, or sharing information with public bodies when they confirm it is necessary for their official functions). RLIs are legally recognised within data protection law. Where we rely on an RLI, we will ensure the use is strictly necessary and only use or share the minimum data required.

- Legal obligation. Where we need to use your personal data to comply with a legal or regulatory obligation. Where we rely on legal obligation and you do not provide the necessary information, we may be unable to fulfil a right you have or comply with our obligations to you, or we may need to take additional steps, such as informing law enforcement or a public authority or applying for a court order.

Automated decision making and profiling

We do not make decisions based solely on automated processing or profiling that produce legal effects concerning you (or have similarly significant effects).

Criminal offence data and special category data

We do not intentionally collect criminal offence data about you. However, we may process data relating to criminal offences in monitoring the use of our App for security purposes, where we suspect you may have committed a crime, such as attempting to make a fraudulent purchase or claim or circumvent the security of the App or Services. In such circumstances we will provide that information to law enforcement and/or use it to establish, exercise or defend a legal claim. In those circumstances, according to the type of activity and purpose, we will rely on legitimate interests (protecting our business, employees and other users) and legal obligation (where required by legal, judicial or law enforcement to disclose or process that information). [UK law authorises that processing under the Data Protection Act 2018 and although the appropriate authorisation will depend on a case-by-case basis, monitoring for criminal behaviour through the use of our App is in the Substantial public interest (preventing or detecting unlawful acts) and processing information related to suspected criminal activity for legal claims is permitted under the additional condition of legal claims OR authorised under applicable national law.

Disclosures of your personal data

We may share your personal data with the following third parties:

- Internal third parties. IT and system administration services and undertake leadership reporting.
- External third parties.

Your Appstore Provider and mobile network operator to allow you to install the App.

- Service providers [acting as processors] based in the UK who provide [IT and system administration services, hosting services for our App, delivery and logistics services, payment processing, fraud and identity verification providers, customer service support, email delivery and administration, and data storage and analysis].
- Our professional advisors [acting as controllers] based in the UK, including lawyers, auditors, insurers, consultants who provide legal, accounting, insurance services.
- Third parties to whom we may choose to sell, transfer or merge parts of our business or our assets. Alternatively, we may seek to acquire other businesses or merge with them. If a change happens to our business, then the new owners may use your personal data in the same way as set out in this privacy notice.

- HM Revenue and Customs, regulators, law enforcement, public authorities or other third parties [acting as controllers] based in the UK where necessary to exercise our rights or comply with a legal obligation.

International transfers

We do not transfer your personal data outside the EEA.

Please contact the DPO using the contact details above if you want further information on the specific mechanism used by us when transferring your personal data within the EEA.

Data security

All information you provide to us is stored on our secure servers and located in the EEA. Any payment transactions our chosen third-party provider of payment processing services will be encrypted using Secured Sockets Layer (SSL) technology, where we have given you (or where you have chosen) a password that enables you to access certain parts of our App or Services, you are responsible for keeping this password confidential. We ask you not to share a password with anyone.

Once we have received your information, we will use strict procedures and security features to protect your personal data from loss, unauthorised use or access. We will run back ups, securely store and encrypt the information.

We will collect and store personal data on your device using application data caches and browser web storage (including HTML5).

[Certain Services include social networking, chat room or forum features. Ensure when using these features that you do not submit any personal data that you do not want to be seen, collected or used by other users.]

We have put in place procedures to detect and respond to personal data breaches and notify you and any applicable regulator when we are legally required to do so.

Data retention

By law we have to keep basic information about our customers (including Contact, Identity, Security and Transaction Data) for six years after they cease being customers for tax and other purposes.

In some circumstances you can ask us to delete your data: see Your legal rights below for further information.

Once we no longer have a legal right to hold your personal data, we will delete or, in some circumstances, we will anonymise your personal data (so that it can no longer be associated with you) for research or statistical purposes, in which case we may use this information indefinitely without further notice to you.

Your legal rights

You have the following rights under data protection laws in relation to your personal data.

- Access. Request access to and/or a copy of the personal data we process about you (commonly known as a data subject access request). This enables you to check that we are lawfully processing it.
- Correction. Request correction of any incomplete or inaccurate data we hold about you. (We may need to verify the accuracy of the new data you provide to us.)
- Deletion. Request us to delete or remove personal data where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also can ask us to delete or remove your personal data where you have successfully exercised your right to object to processing (see below), where we have processed your information unlawfully or where we need to erase your personal data to comply with law. (In some cases, we may need to continue to retain some of your personal data where required by law. If these apply, we will notify you at the time of our response.)
- Objection. Object to us processing your personal data where (a) we are relying on legitimate interests as the lawful basis and you feel the processing impacts on your fundamental rights and freedoms, or (b) the processing is for direct marketing purposes. In some cases, we may refuse your objection if we can demonstrate that we have compelling legitimate grounds to continue processing your information which override your rights and freedoms.
- Restriction. Request that we restrict or suspend our processing of your personal data:
  - if you want us to establish the data's accuracy;
  - where our use of the data is unlawful, but you do not want us to erase it;
  - where we no longer require it, but you need us to hold onto it to establish, exercise or defend legal claims; or
  - you have objected to our use of your data, but we need to verify whether we have overriding legitimate grounds to use it.
- Data portability. Request we transfer certain of your personal data to you or your chosen third party in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format. This right only applies to information processed by automated means that we process on the lawful bases of consent or performance of a contract.
- Withdraw consent. Withdraw your consent at any time where we are relying on consent to process your personal data. Please know that this does not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before you withdraw your consent, and after withdrawal, we may not be able to provide certain products or services to you. We will advise you if this is the case at the time you withdraw your consent.
- Complain to us. If you are unhappy with how we process your personal data, please contact us first using the details below so that we have the chance to put it right. Under the UK GDPR, you may also have the right to make a complaint to us, which can be made via email. We will deal with all complaints in line with our complaints procedure, including to keep you informed about the progress and outcome of your complaint.

- Complain to the UK data protection regulator. If you are unhappy with how we process your personal data, we ask that you contact us first, as described above so that we have the chance to put it right. However, you also have the right to make a complaint to the ICO at any time.

You can exercise any of these rights at any time by contacting us by email or using the contact us form.
